Thanks Ginger.

[REDACTED] indicated he was pleased with a walk of his property with one of our detectives a couple of months back and no longer wanted to meet with me. However; he did want our support to establish a Sheriff's sub-station/service center at Carson and Main. These are generally very costly to the city even with free rent.

I felt it was important to stay connected to his righteous concerns, so he agreed to meet with me. He later cancelled that meeting and then he called Mr. Farfsing to voice concerns. I spoke with him again in response to his call to the city and he stated we could meet when he returned to town. He and I are scheduled to meet next Tuesday at 1:30 PM and we may ultimately tour his property together.

If you or anyone from the city would like to attend the [REDACTED] meeting in my office, please feel to have them join. Ultimately I will provide the Mayor, the Mayor Pro Tem, the Council Members and the City Manager's Office with a brief Tuesday afternoon.

Thank you for the information -
Jason

Subject: Increased Crime Complaint: [REDACTED]

Hello everyone,

[REDACTED] called today. He is the owner of the Carson Main Street Shopping Center located at 101-117 East Carson Street next to the library. He said his center has experienced over half a dozen break-ins in the last six months or so. He reports that other businesses in the area are also experiencing similar crimes, and these owners and shopkeepers are already weary and financially struggling as a result of all of the construction on Carson Street that they have been subjected to. He has been working with the Sheriffs Department but is frustrated because the break-ins continue to happen and feels the Council should be aware that local businesses and constituents are suffering due to this "crime wave".

He may come to a Council Meeting to express his concerns, but requested I send you all this message in the meantime.

~Ginger
